About me

- I love to sing. My song is one of the best-loved in the UK. I really love singing after the rain
- My scientific name is “Turdus merula”
- When alarmed, I utter a shrill “tchuc-tchuc-tchuc” repeated quickly
- When I find my partner, I usually mate for life

What I eat

- Mainly insects and worms
- I also eat berries and fruit in season – I love apples, strawberries and pears

My feather colours

- Males are black with a yellow beak and yellow eye ring
- Females are dark brown

Where I live

- Woodlands, parks, gardens, farmland, hedgerows, countryside
- Across the whole country

My nest

- A cup of grass, straw, small twigs and other plants
- Plastered inside with mud and lined with grass
- Low down under any suitable covering
