About me

- I'm one of the UK's most colourful birds
- I'm part of the crow family
- I like to hop around on the ground in search of acorns, and for places to hide them for leaner times – this is called 'caching'
- I have a distinctive and very loud screech!

What I eat

- Acorns, insects, seeds, fruits
- Sometimes eggs and small mammals/birds

My feather colours

- Pinky-orange body, black tail, white rump
- Pale crown with black streaks, black facial marks
- Black and white wings
- Electric-blue wing feathers

Where I live

- Mainly broadleaf woodlands
- But also found in conifer woodlands and parks

My nest

- Built in trees and shrubs
- Made from twigs
- Roots and hair for lining
